

Published on Sophie (<http://sophie.byu.edu>)

Home > Printer-friendly PDF

Lya Ley

Ley
Lya

Lya Ley found her stage debut in 1910 as a small child in the role of Hansel in the piece 'Der Verschwender', directed by Ferdinand Raimund.

The highlights of her career play out as the star of silent movies with fellow friends Pola Negri ^[1], Asta Nielsen, Henny Porten, Fern Andra, Mia May, Marisa Leiko and Lya Mara ^[2]. Ley withdrew herself from the film industry in the 1920s, thus ending her career.

Life

Birthdate:

October 19, 1899

Birth Location:

Troppau, Austria-Hungary

Death Date:

1992

Death Location:

Munich, Germany

Works by Lya Ley

Die Frau im Film - Main Page ^[3]

Lya Ley Interview ^[4]

Source URL: <http://sophie.byu.edu/node/3334>

Links:

[1] <http://sophie.byu.edu/node/3321>

[2] <http://sophie.byu.edu/node/3326>

[3] <http://sophie.byu.edu/texts/die-frau-im-film-main-page>

[4] <http://sophie.byu.edu/texts/lya-ley-interview>